Germans Fear Royalist Coup

CROWN PRINCE IN SECRET VISITS

Others Making Mysterious Calls on Ex-Kaiser
FLIES IMPERIAL FLAG

Strange Goings on Causing Uneasiness

AMSTERDAM, July 26.—The German crown prince has made frequent mysterious visits to the former kaiser at Doorn, it was revealed today.

The kaiser likewise recently has been receiving more than his usual number of visitors from Germany.

Amsterdam Alarmed.

These strange activities around the home of the exiled German ruler have caused a feeling of alarm here, where it is feared they may in some way be connected with monarchist uprisings in the fatherland.

The crown prince has been noticed coming and going from the castle frequently.

His latest call followed the mysterious visit of the yacht Hohenzollern at Wieringen. After the call was concluded the yacht hoisted the imperial flag and sailed for Germany.

Monarchist Outbreaks.

The authorities were at a loss to explain the significance of the occurrences.

In Bavaria within the last few weeks there have been numerous monarchist outbreaks and the movement has reached such proportions that the newspapers are flooded with comment.

KILLER ESCAPES ON WAY TO JAIL

Oklahoma Character Was to Hang for Murder

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 26.—Posses and sheriff's forces of three counties have joined in a desperate hunt for Bulos Sullivan, notorious Oklahoma bandit, who made a sensational escape from officers while en route to the state penitentiary here today.

Sullivan, who shot and killed Deputy United States Marshal J. Walter Casey at Harrison last week as the officer was locking him in the Boone county jail, was sentenced to die in the electric chair September 21.

He was being brought here from Harrison by Sheriff R. H. Skidmore and two deputies. The party was waiting for a train at Kennett. The officers fell asleep, and Sullivan, though heavily shackled about the feet and hands, shuffled quietly away.

160 DEAD DUG OUT OF WRECK

All in Ten Coaches on Bulgar Train Are Killed

SOFIA, July 26.—One hundred and sixty bodies have thus far been recovered from the splintered wreckage of two Bulgarian express trains which crashed between Sofia and Varna Monday.

Two hundred persons were killed and 300 injured, it now is ascertained. Wrecking crews still are searching the tangled fragments of the two trains for bodies.

Trains signaling in watered to have been responsible for the crash in which an engine and eleven coaches were derailed and flattened by the impact. From ten coaches no one escaped alive and dozens of victims were unrecognizably mutilated under the grinding framework of the wooden cars. The collision took place near Plevna.

NOW $5,000,000

Nederland School District Values Increased

NEDERLAND, Texas, July 26.—The total tax value of the Nederland independent school district as equalized by the board of equalization for the year 1922 will be approximately $5,000,000.

This is an increase of $2,000,000 over the year 1921, due to the increase in value of the independent Nederland Fire Oil company and the building now in progress. The board of trustees has not levied a tax rate yet.

Famous Freckled Miller Trio Try to Corner Freckle Market

Mary Is the Second Girl to Enter Contest; and Then There's Willard, Prince, Joe, Victor and Wade Himself

They're counting their freckles one by one.

And it's some job, too.

The three Millers, famous freckle trio of Port Arthur, two brothers and sister, today entered the race for the $5 gold piece offered by The News for the boy or girl who can produce the most freckles.

They're Mary 11, Willard, 8, and Prince, 13, all residing with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Miller, at 1009 12 1/2 Fifteenth street.

If anyone doubts that collectively they have a corner on the freckle market—

Well, boy, just page the Millers!

No, He Has Watermelons.

Many like to help their mother with the housework. Willard has a kind of easy time of it, he says, while Prince is a watermelon merchant but never eats more than he sells.

There's a bunch of 'em in the race today.

Besides those announced yesterday, there's Joe De Foy, 12, 811 Tenth street, who has athletic ambitions. He's one of our pioneer citizens, having spent 11 years in Port Arthur, and if you don't believe the town has grown to be a city, just ask him. Joe lost a tooth a couple of weeks ago when an auto knocked him off his bicycle, but it doesn't spoil his smile any.

Victor Carruth, 14, 3325 Seventh street, is another red headed lad who says he'll win. He's got the town's best freckles, and he got them out of his handhold, counted, he would release that part of it. It helped counting considerably, Wade says, but once his friend's hand slipped and they lost track of which zone had been counted and had to give up, as by this time Wade's face began to get sore and it made the freckles run together.

The freckle contest closes at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of August 1, when the winner will be given a $5 gold piece and the one with the next best set of freckles will be given $3.

Wade Orders Recount.

Wade, Youngblood, 8, 1120 Ninth street, is the possessor of a set of freckles from Freckleland itself. He started counting them, with the aid of another lad, he said. This boy would seize a part of his face between two fingers, and as he got the outer skirts of his handhold counted, he would release that part of it. It helped counting considerably, Wade says, but once his friend's hand slipped and they lost track of which zone had been counted and had to give up, as by this time Wade's face began to get sore and it made the freckles run together.

WARD MURDER CASE REOPENED

Indicted on Charge of Killing Clarence Peters

MILLIONAIRE, NO BAIL

New Clue Claimed Found in Baffling Mystery

SAY GAS SHOULD BE 40 CHEAPER

Independents Claim Artificial Market Exists

CHICAGO, July 26.—A national conference to reduce present "excessive gasoline prices in the midwest and southwest" four cents a gallon was opened here today by independent oil producers, refiners and gasoline distributors.

Several hundred delegates are attending. Officials of the National Petroleum Marketers' association which called the meeting said ways would be devised to wipe out "an artificial market created by a group of refiners over which the independents have no control" and to bring about the four cent reduction in filling stations.

Crude Over-Production.
"We have today the greatest over-production of crude oil in the history of the world," declared L. V. Nicholas, president of the association. "The world market for crude oil is 80 cents a barrel, while in central parts of the United States crude oil is selling at $1.60 and $1.50 a barrel."

"A small group of producers and refiners over whom we have no control has established a restricted district which reaches from northern Texas to Pennsylvania. Crude oil prices in that district are unreasonably high and that's why gasoline is high. Gasoline prices follow crude oil quotations up or down."

Claim Prices Unequal.
"Gasoline prices around here should be four or five cents lower. You can drive up to a filling station in New York and fill the tank on your car for two or three cents cheaper than you can in Chicago or Kansas City. New York is farther from producing centers."

Some expressed the belief that measures were not adopted at this conference to force lower prices, thousands of persons who drive automobiles will find the cost of gasoline at most prohibitive.

Distributors from rural districts said prices are working hardships on farmers who rely on gasoline to operate 90 per cent of their farm machinery.

In response to a message announcing the death of her father, J. Maddy, at Joplin, Mo., Wednesday, Mrs. J. W. Crouch, 830 Beaumont avenue, accompanied by her husband, left last night for Joplin to attend the funeral.

NEW CITY MAPS

The maps of Port Arthur, complete in every part, have been received by the tax collector's office at the city hall, it was announced this morning by acting Mayor Wiley, and are available to persons wanting one.

The maps contain the new Model addition complete, it was announced. According to the acting mayor, they will be disposed of at cost to the citizenship.

Red Spirit Of Russia in Civitan Club

Civitan turned "bolshhevik" yesterday, impeached their president, Vernon J. Wistner, and all other officers.

In a stormy session in the New Lake View hotel after the chicken wings had been disposed of, the right and left wings in the club formed a coalition, smashed the center, or "conservatives," led by W. P. Winkler, and staged a bloodless, though wordy, "coup d'etat."

O. M. Briley, swept into the president's chair on the wave of success attending the government's overthrow, immediately issued an exclusive interview, promising political amnesty to all political enemies. Unconfirmed reports have it that Briley has prepared articles of abdication in favor of Vernon J. Wistner, now out of Port Arthur on a vacation.

The political bomb was exploded in the Civitan's session by Rev. Bill Oschger, who demanded impeachment of all officers, charging them with "wholesale desertion." Before Rev. Oschger's appeal, hailed by fellow Civitans "as the most impassioned burst of oratory which ever rang through a dining room," William Davis, acting chairman, capitulated, and let the storm blow where it would.

A futile attempt to stem the tide of revolution breaking over the Civitan was made by W. P. Winkler, director of the club, but even he was ousted by the victorious right and left wings, who stood over all opposition as they felt the reins of power in their grasp.

The complete staff of usurpers now "ruling" the Civitan Club are O. M. Briley, president; John Aswell, vice-president; Ernest Canada, re-elected treasurer "because of his fidelity," Ira Aviz, secretary; and Major C. H. Fitz-Gerald and Major William Crossland, British vice-consul, directors.

TANGLED WEB BEING SLOWLY

The Mysterious Stranger
Mrs. Lanier stressed the story related to her by the doctor on the Monday night preceding the slaying in which he told of being followed from Port Arthur by a "rough appearing stranger."

She said the doctor displayed nervousness over the incident. "He told me that the stranger had come upon the interurban with him," Mrs. Lanier related. "They did not share the same seat, however."

"When he arrived home, shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night he said to me 'You know, I believe that man was following me. He got to talking to me on the car and said: 'That's a fine ring you have; have you any more like it?' Dr. Penman said he then told the stranger it was none of his business."

"Dr. Penman said that when he left the car a block from the house the stranger left the car, took up and followed him down the street. He said he stopped once to look around at the stranger and that the latter stopped. After the doctor had continued down the street several paces, he turned again, he told me, and he said the stranger was still standing there."

Mrs. Penman Returning
The slaying is further complicated by the evidence that the murderer did not enter the house with a weapon of any kind, so far as the police have been able to gather. The use of the long-barreled .38 Smith & Wesson .22-caliber revolver, which belonged to Dr. Penman's 12-year-old son, and was somewhere inside the house before the murder, according to Mrs. Lanier, she was unable to say exactly just where.

When the body was discovered at 10:30 yesterday morning, a diamond cluster ring was missing from the left hand and a purse from which had been removed a small amount of money was lying on the bed. Also a box containing a string of imitation pearls was missing from the room.

It is confidently predicted by the police that an arrest will follow soon, although they refuse to divulge the clue which will provide it. A re-examination of the body by a physician yet to be named is expected this afternoon.

Mrs. Penman will return here tomorrow from Boulder, Colo., where she has been for the past two months. She will be accompanied by her sister, Mrs. George D. Anderson, of Beaumont. No funeral arrangements have been made.

BANDIT MAKES PAIR GIVE LIFT

Jovial Outlaw Robs Couple, Leaves Cab Fare

CHICAGO, July 26.—A jovial bandit found Frank E. Grogan, 19, and Miss Jeanette Whitaker, 18, seated in Grogan's new sedan in front of the Whitaker home at 1:30 o'clock in the morning.

The couple had been to the South Shore country club with Miss Whitaker's parents, and were awaiting the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Whitaker. "Stick 'em up," said the bandit to Grogan, producing a revolver. "or I'll shoot your sweetie."

"Now step out," said the bandit to Miss Whitaker. Up went her hands. "Now step out," was the bandit's next order. He searched his victims, taking $8 from Grogan, a graduate from De Paul University, and $10.00 from Miss Whitaker's purse.

"Now step in," the bandit ordered, "and take me for a drive." His victims complied. At Forty-sixth street and Champlain avenue he ordered a halt. He took a half dollar from his pocket.

He handed it to Miss Whitaker. "Step out now. That'll do for a drive home. I'm going for a cabbie." He drove away with Grogan's car, leaving them standing at the curb. Miss Whitaker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Whitaker, were held up in their home by three bandits two months ago and robbed of $5,000 in jewelry.

Dr. E. Y. Mullens Named President of the Baptist Alliance at Stockholm

STOCKHOLM, July 26.—Dr. E. Y. Mullens of Louisville was elected president of the Baptist World Alliance today to succeed the late Dr. R. S. McArthur who died in February of this year.

Dr. Mullens is a native of Mississippi, and a graduate of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary at Louisville, of which institution he has been president since 1899. He has been an editor and foreign mission secretary at various times in his career and is the author of many books dealing with the philosophy of religion.

In May 1921 he was elected president of the Southern Baptist convention which office he now holds.

DEMPSEY-FIRPO BOUT SEPT 12?

Rickard Refuses to Give Definite Information

NEW YORK, July 26.—Jack Dempsey will defend his world's heavyweight championship against Luis Firpo at the Polo Grounds on September 12 or 15, it was learned from a reliable source today.

Tex Rickard, who has signed both fighters, would not comment on the date or the place he has selected for the fight.

Dempsey will get a large percentage of the purse and Firpo has been guaranteed not less than $100,000 for his bout.

Firpo, with a large grouch on board, was heading west today to start a string of setup matches.

The South American champion, it was learned, claims that Rickard forced him into the match before he was ready and that this match will cost him almost $300,000.

YOU ARE MISSING A GREAT SPORT IF YOU CAN'T SWIM—AND YOU CAN MASTER THE ART IN FORTY MINUTES!

BY LYRA M. SHEFFIELD
Director of Swimming, University of California Summer Session, and Co-Author of "Swimming Simplified"
FIRST ARTICLE—OVERCOME FEAR

Correct position for face-submerged breathing exercise. Hands touch sides of tank about level of water's surface. Raising left foot and right body is floating completely, the exercise.

Every year hundreds of persons miss the best of summer sports—swimming—because they "never learned to swim."

They speak of swimming as some sort of higher education that "can only be gained by a long and tedious foundation of preparatory work," founded early in life.

Entirely wrong. Any person applying himself sincerely and adhering to certain fundamental rules can learn to swim in 40 minutes!

Of course, he will not be a fancy diver or world record contender in that time, but he will be able to keep himself afloat and to propel himself through the length of an ordinary tank. Progress from this point is a matter of practice.

Fear is the bogey that keeps many out of the water. So first you must overcome this. It can be done at home.

Water Friendly
The water is very friendly and will do everything in its power to keep you afloat if you will co-operate with it. Always bear this in mind.

Then practice getting your face under water—the dread of many a novice. This is done with the aid of a large bowl of water.

Fill the bowl nearly full, take a deep breath and plunge your face under the water. Hold your nose, if you want to. Stay under for necessity forces you to "come up for air." Repeat this until you feel quite at home "under water."

Now try the same thing without holding the nose and with the eyes open. At the beginning, do not attempt to stay under more than about five seconds. Repeat, extending the time under, until done with ease, and naturally.

Remember while doing this, that the correct breathing for swimmers is a deep, slow inhalation through the mouth and a rapid exhalation through the nose. The last bit of air always should be exhaled above the water.

If preferable, you can practice under the water, in the swimming pool, grasping the railing and submerging your head.

Learn Balance
After you have overcome fear and mastered correct breathing under water, you are ready to learn balance. You can never become expert unless you do.

Stand in the pool and grasp the railing or some other support which is about the level of the water's surface. Extend one foot backward, keep

Rev. Minter to Preach Through Revival Series

Revival services conducted by Rev. K. G. Minter, Methodist minister of Slicker, well known in Port Arthur, opened Wednesday night at the First M. E. church, South Nashville avenue and Fifth street, Rev. V. A. Cragg, pastor, said today.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, Rev. Minter will speak on "Jesus Seeking the Lost," and other subjects announced as follows:

Friday evening, "The Revival: Why it is Needed, and How Obtained;" Saturday evening, "Hell in Port Arthur."

Sunday morning, "The Responsibilities of the Church;" Sunday evening, "Wanted: A Pest House;" and Monday, "What's Wrong With the World?"

Singing at the revival services is being led by J. H. Carlin, evangelistic song leader, Rev. Godbey said, and the services are held on the roof of the church building, where those attending may be cool and comfortable, he said. The revival will last two and a half weeks, Rev. Godbey said, and other subjects will be announced later by Rev. Minter.

$1.75 MINIMUM WHEAT IS URGED

OREGON SENATOR REQUESTS SPECIAL CONGRESS SESSION
PORTLAND, Ore., July 26.—Request for a special session to Congress to enact legislation fixing a minimum price for the 1933 wheat crop of $1.75 per bushel will be laid before President Harding Saturday by Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon.

Senator McNary will board the presidential special train at some point in the state as it goes south to California and confer with Mr. Harding. McNary is ranking membership on the agricultural committee of the senate and has been studying the wheat crop situation for some weeks.

"Ordinarily I do not favor price fixing but this is not an ordinary situation. The farmers' arguments are sound," McNary said, explaining his contemplated action.

BLIZZARD JURY IS LOCKED, SAYS FOREMAN

EWINGSBURG, W. Va., July 26.—The jury deliberating the fate of William Hilsard is deadlocked, H. H. Horah, foreman, reported to Judge Sharp this afternoon.

The judge said he would take no action in the case immediately. Hilsard was tried for murder in connection with the Logan county miners' insurrection of August 1921.

FIRE LOSS TO DENTIST IS CONFIRMED TO $90

Damage estimated at about $200 resulted from fire in the office of Dr. Peter Shaw, dentist, on the fourth floor of the Denton building Wednesday about 6 p. m. Fire Chief Clyde La Rose said today. The blaze apparently started from a lighted match or cigarette butt dropped in a waste basket in the laboratory of Dr. Shaw's office.

Two hose lines were carried up to the fourth floor of the building from a fire plug in the alley, but the flames were put out with a hand chemical. Hundreds of spectators were drawn to the rear of the Denton building by the excitement, the downtown streets being filled with pedestrians at the hour the fire alarm was turned in.

LIONS GO TO ORANGE IN FORCE ON FRIDAY

Final plans for journeying by auto to Orange Friday afternoon for the Tri-City Lions Club meet are being made today by members of the Port Arthur Lions club, officials said. The party from Port Arthur, expected to number about 36, will leave from the Plaza hotel at 3 p. m., and officials today urged all Lions expecting to make the trip to be on hand for leaving promptly at the hour appointed. Raymond A. Murray will speak on the program to be given in Orange tomorrow evening when the Port Arthur, Orange and Beaumont Lions gather at a banquet.

HAD HEARD ENOUGH

"Let's see," said the genial manager of the world, lecturer as he looked over the atlas. "Here's a town one might strike on our way back. Autamarino, the capital of Madagascar, is a city of 100,000 inhabitants. "That sounds promising," said the lecturer, running through his hair. "read some more about it." "The people of Madagascar," continued the genial manager, reading from his book, "are not a savage race and few of the tribes could be classed as barbarous people. There are many native orators among them, and their language abounds in figures, metaphors, and parables, and ample evidence is given of the mental ability of the inhabitants." "Sounds like it might be all right," said the humorist, "read some more." "Madagascar is the home," read the manager, "of an enormous bird called the pygmy, that lays an egg 15-12 by 9-12 in. in size, weighing from ten to twelve pounds. These eggs—" "Never mind reading any more," said the world lecturer, "we will not go to Madagascar."

TODDLERKINS

Toddlerkins climbed up the long, long stair. Chubby and fat and round was he. With red rosy cheeks and light curling hair. Jolly and fair and gay was he. Toddlerkins knocked on the office door. Within at a desk a stern man sat. Wrote with a pen while a frown he wore. When he heard on the door a rattling. Toddlerkins cried: "Oh please let me in." "I've come to see you, the door is fast." "Oh, voice so soft, it will surely win the heart of the stern, cold man at the desk." But he heeded not the pleading cry of Toddlerkins out on the lonely stair. And Toddlerkins left with a sorrowful sigh. Toddlerkins round, and chubby and fair. Oh, man so stern, when you stand and plead at the door of your Father's house on high. What if he, merciless, pay no heed? Fleeless, turns from your helpless cry! But the man wrote on with a stony stare. He was an editor, poor and ill; And Toddlerkins chubby and round and fair. Was a butcher that brought a big meat bill.

TOM SIMS SAYS

Our idea of fun is a barber shaving his dentist. We would hate to be a collector because they must think everybody says mad all the time. Early bird doesn't get the sleep. Man wants but little here below his chin in, hot weather. Many people are afraid to dive into shallow water. What we need is more like them. We would hate to live in a big house and have to hunt for our pipe in every room. The latest trouble always seems to be the worst. It is easy to get too sick to work and still feel well enough to go fishing. The smartest dog we know of barks at every man he sees carrying a walking stick. When the average man does stay at home he stretches out and sleeps until bed time. It is not against the law to think your neighbors are awful, but it is a terrible waste of time. Living a long time is hard to do because it is hard to find the money with which to do it. England thinks peace has taken French leave. What the United States needs is a serious reformer shortage. Nice thing about a porch swing is it never has a puncture or runs into a ditch. Keep looking on and you will leave the day to the night. You are not getting old until you have the opportunity before it is time to leave.

HOW WE GET ADVERTISING FREE

"The richest man in the world gets more advertising free than any other individual. Henry Ford, through his words and his deeds, hits the first page as often as President Harding. The militant suffragettes of England did not have the millions of dollars necessary for an educational campaign through the newspapers of England. They broke windows instead. South Ireland needed the sympathy and the interest of the world. The hunger strike as a free advertisement was borrowed from the suffragists. Bomb throwing was borrowed from the Russian Nihilists. The I. W. W. may have a treasury sufficient to pay Pullman fares for national officers but certainly it has not the treasury to pay for the advertising the national headquarters has received through the various manifestos issued against Port Arthur during the last few weeks.

The I. W. W. organization and its treasury are recruited from the ranks of those who have not fitted financially into the American civilization. If every one in America were prosperous there would be no I. W. W. The more depression and discontent there is in the United States, the stronger becomes the I. W. W. and similar organizations.

The present is not a bad time for an I. W. W. advertising campaign. But the advertising has to be nation wide and free of cost.

Hence, we have a manifesto ordering 25,000 "wobblies" into Port Arthur to avenge the indignities to the person of an I. W. W. organizer. It is not important whether 25 I. W. W.'s arrived at their destination or whether only five reached the chosen city. The manifesto has already achieved its full advertising value by its having been spread upon the first pages of the nation's newspapers.

Bill Haywood, the first and foremost brain of the I. W. W., is in Russia, probably as president emeritus of the organization. When Bill was functioning out of Chicago as head of the order some ten years ago, he had an unique advertising scheme. But being a genius, Bill combined direct salesmanship and financial sense with his advertising.

Bill at that time got his advertising by attacking trade unionism. He told the world just as often as he could get free space that trade unions had crooked leaders who were not interested in bringing about justice for the working man. He asked the discontented rank and file within the Labor Unions to elect officers in sympathy with "direct action."

Thus having advertised his product, Bill was ready whenever he had prospective customers. These customers, occurred in thousands whenever a strike happened among unorganized workers anywhere in the country.

It was Bill's business to read the newspapers very early each morning. If he read that a strike was on in the mills of Lawrence, Mass., he wired his Boston organizer to get on the job and open headquarters, signing up the strikers into the I. W. W. at fifty cents per head. At fifty cents per head he promised a vigorous fight on the capitalists. The trade union some time would send representatives a week or two later, only to find that Haywood's treasurer-manager had preceded them. Haywood honored some 25,000 rubber strikers in Akron, Ohio, by paying them a personal visit after his organizer had collected $10,000 or $15,000 in fees. The writer asked him whether he expected to win the Akron rubber strike. "No," said Haywood, "it's a 'belly-hunger' strike, and the strikers will lose. But the I. W. W. will win because there will be left in Akron 25,000 discontented forced back into the shop, through hunger. This will bring the day of 'direct action' so much nearer."

When Bill was asked how he justified the doctrine that strikers should destroy buildings and machinery, he said, "We are not advocating that in this instance. Public opinion among the workers is not that far advanced. But the sooner this thing gets to the point of warfare the sooner the thing will be over. The workers have just as much right to break up these rubber plants as the rubber plant owners have to beat the men back into the plants through starvation. Some day the workers will know it."

Of course, Bill was not the "original" direct actionist. The French anarchists began writing books favoring "direct action" about 30 years ago. This industrial "philosophy," so its authors call it, will almost surely appeal to any man who has faced hunger repeatedly through his inability to fit himself into the needs of the world. The man who can't or won't market his hands or his brain, finally adopts "direct action" as his belief. He starts out by saying that the world owes him a living. His next step is to attempt to take a living from the world.

The I. W. W. seeks to take an immediate living through seizing whatever wealth is available. Any five-year old child understands that the more fighters you have in your gang when you go to clean up the next neighborhood, the better chance you have on your rock throwing excursion. The idea apparently is to collect the misfits who are too timorous to become individual "direct actionists."

HIRAM IS HITCHED

Senator Hiram Johnson of California is on his way home from Europe. He is to be employed by his friends to become a contender for the republican presidential nomination. There was a time when Senator Hi was the hope of the progressive republicans. Then he became a reactionary and another political idol with feet of clay was broken.

If the republicans are going to sidetrace Warren G. Harding they will be compelled to go to the middle west, in the wheat and corn producing sections of America for a Moses. Minnesota is lost to the republicans of the Harding stripe, Wisconsin is lost to them. North Dakota is lost to them. Michigan may be lost to them. The shadow of the Michigan billionaire continues to darken the political horizon. Not in some sections of the south where he has been banished by the invisible powers but everywhere the country over the political astronomers find the shadow.

They are puzzled of course. They do not know that they have the machinery of the two great political organizations in their grasp but just think what happened to the machines in Minnesota.

Professor Jack Dempsey is willing to make another exhibition of his muscles for a purse of one million dollars. A modest man is Professor Dempsey. Ten years ago he was a professional lobo; seven years ago he was dodging the draft; now he is making a million dollars a year and has a manager, three valets, a Japanese butler, a publicity agent and a coal mine in Utah. There is a lot of romance left in this old land of ours.

CONTINUATION OF A LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

I couldn't think this letter last night, John, because my client in the Strathmore case came in and I had to go over the entire evidence with him. However, there isn't very much more to say. Paula told me that she was leaving for California early next week and she told me to tell you she wished you every happiness. God, Jack, she is a pretty straight girl after all, isn't she? I don't believe I would have sent such a message to a man who had wronged me. Would you? I asked her if she had enough money to go, and she answered proudly that she had borrowed it from some of her friends in New York. She would not leave away from that. I tell you I came away from that feeling that she was a pretty decent sort of a girl after all. All my sympathies were with her, and I hope she will have the greatest success on the screen. There! I've sent you my message, and I'm not going to write any more. I don't care for you just at this moment overmuch, Jack, and I hate myself. And for this question keeps running through my head. But for the grace of God, Sydney Carton, that man might have been you. Good night, old chap. SYDNEY.

Letter from Mary Alden Prescott to John Alden Prescott

MY DEAR SON: I really cannot understand why you have written me. Of course, I know that Leslie has been ill, but it does not seem to me that even Leslie's death should keep you from writing to your mother—your mother who is alone in the world and has no one but you to care for.

You know, my boy, that I, too, have been near to the Valley of Death. Dear Priscilla Bradford told me she wrote to you telling you how ill I was. And I am sure she felt very hurt. John, when I wrote you asking you to have her come in my place to help nurse Leslie and you refused so curtly. She seemed to feel if I, as ill as I was, would ask her to go to you and she was perfectly willing, because of me, to go, that she deserved at least something more than a refusal couched in the terms in which you sent it.

I expect by this time that Leslie is up and about, and I am sure that you know just how badly she was hurt. I am writing you today, however, because the man who painted the House is asking me rather peremptorily for the money. You know, I told you when he painted it that I did not have the money to pay for it, but I considered the money was well spent. I did not think for a moment that you would not and it was my return mail. It has been months since I have been able to ask you for it because I felt that you would surely send this to your mother.

Please, John, do not let me be annoyed by this man any longer. Dear Priscilla says she knows it was through some mistake. She insists that you probably have sent it here this or at least you have been so concerned over your wife's health it has slipped your mind. I cannot help thinking, however, that you have spent very much more money than you should.

I can easily understand that Leslie is extravagant and thoughtless. However, I hope the time will never come when she will be humiliated as I am now, by having to remind her son of her need to expect to hear from you by return mail. Your loving mother, MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT.

TOMORROW—Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton writes to Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott—on adopting a baby.

THE MYSTERY

By BERTON BRALY

He married her because she dressed in dainty fashion. And thus, aroused within his breast The gentle passion: She was so fresh, so trim and smart That looking at her Was quite enough to make his heart Go pitter patter.

She married him because he seemed As neat as could be. His clothes were smart, his line gleamed. And, as it should be, His face was shaven with skill adept. He charmed her greatly. A stylish chap whose garb was kept immaculately.

But when the honeymoon was o'er She grew a slattern. The dowdy, negligee she wore Was bad in pattern. While he, who won her heart with his Barbaresco splendor, Wore sloven shirts, unshaven phiz, And soiled suspenders.

To lawyers now the pair apply To be unannet. And everybody wonders why They separated! (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service, Inc.)

A Thought for Today

YOU AND I

WALL STREET

A stock market slump generally means that business conditions will stagnate about six months later. The market anticipates the industrial situation, rising in advance of business and shipping during a period of depression.

This year, however, the stock market cannot be depended on, as much as usual. In "doping" the business outlook, because the drop in the market has been to considerable extent due to loss of public confidence in Wall Street.

In less than two years, more than 100 brokerage firms have failed. About 100 of them were not associated with any stock exchange, but their failure nevertheless has caused some to withdraw from the market, the considerable fraction of the plungers whose operations cause the market to rise or fall.

STUPID

Medical profession is developing no end of queer theories. Dr. Lucius M. Bush of New York says many a person is blamed for being dull and stupid when the trouble is to be found in irritation and abstraction of the nose.

"Even insanity is caused at times by nasal pressure. Every one knows the effect a cold or nasal congestion can produce on concentrated thought." On the other hand, there are plenty of mental scientists who will claim that the "dull and stupid" thought causes the nose trouble—on the theory that we create as we think and that our bodies like their free-will actions, reflect our thinking.

FARMER

The farmer has succeeded as a producer, but he has failed as a marketer, says Walton Porter of American Farm Bureau Federation. He thinks co-operative marketing will help a lot.

More than any other industry, farming is regulated by the law of supply and demand. The supply movement was started to get a better market for the farmer and better prices for the consumer. But when the consumer moves out to deal directly with the source of production, he usually has to pay city prices, or close to them. Back of this is a principle that retards elimination of the middleman.

ELECTRIC

Slowly but surely we move into the Electric Age. Production of electricity this year will be increased at least a tenth. Electricity now lights 14 million homes, two and a half million stores, and industrial plants, and supplies the power used by more than five million manufacturing and commercial establishments.

The solution of our coal problem is to burn the coal at the mines, generating power sent over high tension wires to a nation on an electrical basis—lighting, cooking and fuel for warmth. You may live to see it, look at your life-line, left palm.

RENTS

Apartment houses co-operatively owned by their tenants within a few years will replace private houses in large cities. This is the belief of E. A. McDougall, New York expert, addressing real estate men.

It would be a logical and sensible development. Later the airplane will break up the big cities. Men will live 100 or more miles out of town and fly to and from work. "Keep an eye on counter-revolution," if buying for your heirs several generations ahead.

SUICIDES

About 10,000 Americans committed suicide last year, according to insurance statistics. It compares with around 10,500 murders. The suicide rate was 15 out of every 100,000 of population. Figure it on the basis of life expectancy apparently ends about one life out of every 180. It is a futile attempt to escape from the unescapable; for we take our troubles with us when we pass over.

HOKUM

American industry is carrying a load of eight billion dollars a year in the form of overhead charges for government, expenses, taxes, a large banking organization. The simple truth is that industry is merely doing the bookkeeping, and that the burden is being carried by consumers. They pay in the long run. Taxes are taken out of increased prices. Corporations are as far from the purchase as before the war, though in common with individuals they are not enjoying the same prosperity as war-bonus days when money literally grew out of trees.

COLORED

The German near-monopoly of the world's dyestuffs, used in coloring, has been broken—temporarily, and probably permanently. American makers now are producing nearly $4 out of every 100 pounds of dye used in our country.

These two facts blemish the hundreds of columns of befuddling news and comment about dye which for nearly nine years you have been reading—or skipping?

SCORES ACCUSED OF DEAD YOUTH

Believe Led Killed to Prevent Evidence

PORT WORTH, Texas, July 26.—Charging that her son was slain in order to prevent introduction of evidence, which would reflect on the character of the girl he was charged with having seduced, Mrs. Lee Davis of Grapevine, mother of Alfred Davis, 21 years old, who was fatally wounded on the streets of Port Worth, by C. R. Livingston, 18-year-old, gave her version of the crime which led to the slaying.

"The Livingston and Davis families were on the best of terms and the seduction charges were filed," declared Mrs. Davis. "We went to the same church, and often visited one another. When the seduction charges were filed against my son, we requested that Mr. Livingston come to our house and talk over the matter to us shortly before Alfred was killed. But Livingston had threatened his life and we were worried."

"My daughter, Alfred's sister, was on the streets of Grapevine when her brother was killed. She heard the shot, and rushing up to him, fainted at the sight of him lying in the street. She is now in a serious condition, under the care of a physician."

Evington still maintains his stoic silence regarding the cause of the shooting or any of the details.

Youthful Brothers Are Indicted by a Jury On Charges of Murder

HOUSTON, Texas, July 26.—Joe Piazza, 16 years old, and Paul Piazza, 14 years old, brothers, were indicted today by the Harris county grand jury on murder charges growing out of the shooting of J. R. Salmon of League City July 5.

Salmon was shot and fatally wounded when he went to mend an automobile near the Clear Creek bridge. He died at 4 o'clock that afternoon in a Houston hospital.

An indictment charging burglary was returned against Tom Knight, alias Richard Less, and R. J. Miller in connection with the burglarizing of the Hurlburt-Still Electric company early this month. Knight was also indicted in connection with the theft of an automobile from Sol Westgarten. Knight is now in Port Worth, where he was taken on a federal charge.

Room after his arrest here, Knight escaped police officials by escaping from the city jail in the central fire and police station. He was arrested later in the week in Galveston.

COTTON PICKING STARTS EARLY AT EAGLE PASS

EAGLE PASS, Texas, July 26.—The farmers of Maverick county have begun picking cotton, and the indications are that they will harvest a fair size crop. In some sections they expect a bale to the acre.

The cotton crop this year is more in the way of an experiment, this being the first year that cotton has been planted in the county to any extent. From all indications, however, the good results of this year will mean that many farmers next year will increase their cotton acreage, to an appreciable extent, and many have already begun to build a cotton gin.

This year's crop will have to be hauled for a distance of 40 miles to the nearest gin.

U. S. Prosperity Whets Appetite for Luxury

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Increased prosperity has restored the appetite of the country for luxuries; figures compiled by the department of commerce for the last fiscal year indicate. Diamond, ostrich feathers, silks, pearls and other non-essentials are finding a much readier market than a year ago.

Imports of pearls increased from $5,351,709 to $10,504,205. Ostrich feathers importations a year ago numbered 121,805 valued at $941,782; while this year they were 158,542, valued at $1,011,013. The total value of silk increased from $309,579,544 to $455,707,410.

Increased importation of these and various other products, such as toys, is due largely to increased employment and better industrial conditions, says the department.

"THE MAN NEXT DOOR"
An advance notice says:
"The Man Next Door," by Emerson Hough, author of "The Covered Wagon," "North of 36," "34 deg. 40 min. or Fight," and "The Mississippi Bubble," will be shown at the Strand theatre Friday and Saturday.

This is one of the most famous of the long list of novels of American popular writer. It deals with life on a great ranch in Wyoming, and tells the story of a motherless girl who is reared by hard-fisted cow punchers.
Bonnie Bell Wright is the daughter of the richest cattleman in the state, and the girl is petted and pampered but never spoiled by her indulgent father and only, the foreman of the Circle Arrow ranch. When the girl is sixteen Old Man Wright sends her to a finishing school in the East, and upon her return the old cattleman believes that Bonnie Bell must have the luxuries of an eastern metropolis.

There Bonnie Bell learns that riches do not guarantee friendships, and it is the struggle of this girl to find happiness that makes "The Man Next Door" one of the most human comedy dramas offered on the screen.

BEAUTIFUL BLEDSOE HOME IS SCENE OF DELIGHTFUL DANCE BY DeMOLAY ORDER

The lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Bledsoe Tuesday evening was the scene of one of the most delightful and elaborate affairs ever attempted by the younger set, when the Port Arthur Chapter, Order DeMolay, entertained with a dance.

The dance was the result of an attendance campaign between two sides, headed by J. Mason Barron and Jack Hoffpauir. Mr. Barron's defeated faction acted as hosts on this occasion.

The palatial Gates Estate was never more attractive than on Tuesday evening, when the guests enjoyed dancing on the wide veranda or strolled over the spacious lawn. The DeMolay colors of purple and gold were in evidence everywhere, and an attractive profusion of roses, clustered in baskets and vases, gave a pretty touch to the lovely decorations. Masses of the season's loveliest blossoms were artistically arranged throughout the reception rooms thrown open for the occasion.

Prominently at 10 o'clock the lights were subdued and the beautiful and impressive DeMolay interposition service was held, Desmond Secret, Master Counselor of the Port Arthur Chapter, and Jack Hoffpauir, chaplain, conducting.

Dancing began at 9:30, music being furnished by Moody's Musical Musketiers from Beaumont. Port Arthur has seldom had the opportunity to enjoy an orchestra the equal to this splendid organization, but Tuesday evening some of the best orchestration and playing that the young people have ever had the pleasure of listening to were given. Punch and cakes were served throughout the evening.

Among those registering at this, the most enjoyable event of the summer months among the younger set, were the following: Misses Ruth Alexander, Edna Davis, Gertrude Mae McAdams, Beale Allen, Pauline Barrett, Bernice Blair, Jeanne Scriver, Marie Miles, Isabelle Davis, Gladie Akim, Eva Butler, Minnie Lee Odum, Ruth Crim, Marcelle Yarborough, Rachael Atkinson, Gladys Dorsey, Margarette Nobles, Mary McGorry, May Alice Walker, Mildred Guice, Belle Ward, Katherine McGuire, Emma Pools, Allen Keeney, Carolyn O'Neil, Maxine Kohlman, Helen Foster, Wilma Christian, Myrl Seafers of Palestine, Jane Hightower, Margaret Alnwater, Eunice Dorman, Elizabeth Workman of Beaumont, Rose Belle Barnes of Dallas, and Marion Hubbel of Houston; Messrs. Ernest Meyer, Leon Smith, Paul Seckel, Revere Smith, Roland Carroll, Royce Hinkle, Desmond Secret, Mason Barron, Edwin E. Atwell, Jack Hoffpauir, Quentin Wells, Jr., Joe Plattman, R. P. Mossman, J. B. Kent, F. D. Jernigan, W. L. Clinton, Harley Eddington, Walter Nelson, Gerald Balser, Victor Sherrill, T. J. Ridley, Herbert Crawford, Harvey Rogers, Ernest Gipson, S. W. Livingston, Bernard Edstrom, Jack Minton, Emmett Gipe, Reginald Latimer, Beryl Criss, Eddie Miles, Joe H. Bogel, Meritt Stealing, P. H. Robinson, Thomas Betts, Charlie McFarland, Leonard Frickard, W. H. Telfair, all of Port Arthur; Charles Daniel, W. A. Ryan, Kesley Lamb, Perry Gentry, Everett Parish, E. C. Nichols, W. A. Seruggs, Hollis Jenkins and Ralph Wilson, all of Beaumont; J. Gordon Potts of Galveston, and C. L. Cummings of Hugo, Okla.

INTERESTING indeed to a wide circle of friends in Port Arthur is the announcement of the wedding of Miss Margaret Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thomas of Beaumont, and Mr. George D. Beatty of this city, which took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the Rev. Father E. A. Kelly.

The bride was attired in a handsome traveling dress of brocade, crepe embroidered in bronze beads, with which she wore a lovely brown hat with silver and blue trimmings. Her carriage was fashioned of Ophele roses and ferns.

Miss Elizabeth Foudrum, who served as the bride's only attendant, wore an attractive frock of beige flat crepe, with hat and accessories in harmony. She wore a corsage of Columbia roses. Mr. James Martin, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride has made her home in Beaumont the past ten years, having originally come from Kentucky. She is a popular member of Beaumont's younger set, and was a graduate of the Beaumont high school with the class of 1918.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Felix Martin of Beaumont and was reared in that city, graduating from the Beaumont high school and serving with the marines during the World War. He later attended the University of Texas, and for two years held a position with the Texas Company in Tampico, Mexico. He is now employed in the Case and Pacific division of the Texas Company.

Following the ceremony at St. Anthony's Rectory, an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thomas, 900 Washington boulevard. The home was in attractive adornment for the affair, baskets of lovely Ophele roses in graceful arrangement giving formal beauty to the living room. A dainty light course was served the close friends and relatives, who called to offer congratulations to the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Beatty returned to Port Arthur during the evening and will remain at the Plaza until Saturday when they will leave for an automobile tour of Galveston, San Antonio and other Texas points. Upon their return from their honeymoon they will spend a short time in Beaumont with Mrs. Beatty's parents before coming to Port Arthur to make their home.

Omaha Woman Plans and Builds Her Own Home

Mrs. R. A. Bolen and the five room house she built.

By NEA Service
OMAHA, Neb., July 26.—When Mrs. R. A. Bolen points to her home and says, "This is MY home," she is more entitled to that reflection than most women in the United States.

For not only is it her home—the home she lives in—but it's HER home, the product of her own hands, the home she built!

From foundation to gable, the new five-room bungalow on Lafayette avenue here was put up by Mrs. Bolen alone. Of course she had to leave the plumbing and electrical work to licensed workmen, but she did all the carpentry.

Working alone on the building, in sturdy knickerbockers, high boots and heavy work shirt, Mrs. Bolen completed her task in eight months. Her husband came around three or four times to look over the work and offer suggestions, and whenever she struck a snag, she says, she went to F. K. Stearns of the Updike Lumber Co., who'd tell her what to do.

"I've enjoyed every minute of it," she concludes, now that she's through. "My husband and I had been planning for two years on building a house," she explains, "and we wanted to suit ourselves, and our pocketbook, so we made our own plans."

"Mr. Bolen couldn't leave his business to supervise the building, so I decided I'd quit work and do it. After I'd watched the cement workers put the basement in, I decided I could do the carpentry work myself. So I started."

"The hardest manual labor was putting up the framework," she says. "My 16-year-old brother helped me with the lifting."

Flags for the W. B. A. order and the National flag were being made and a new altar drape was being made for the organization.

Mrs. R. N. Carter was awarded the prize in a contest held at the close of the business session yesterday. The picnic which was postponed several weeks ago on account of inclement weather was discussed yesterday, but the women voted to postpone it until the weather became cooler.

AN OLD-FASHIONED WATERMELON LAWN PARTY will be given by the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Boney, 1921 Thirtieth street, Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The men are to attend the party, attired in blue shirts and overalls, and the women are to wear gingham dresses. Old-fashioned games will be played and the entertainment committee promises plenty of refreshments.

The party will be held on the lawn and a delightful evening is promised all who attend. All members of the Christian Endeavor Society and their friends are invited to attend.

THE REBEKAHS WILL MEET Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Old Fellowship hall, at which time degrees will be conferred. All members of the organization are urged to attend this session.

JOHNSON WARNS AGAINST COURT

Europe's Secret Diplomacy Would Control, He Says

NEW YORK, July 26.—The isolationist program upon which Hiram Johnson will stand against the world court and the league of nations was outlined by the California senator in his first speech since his return from Europe, before a gathering of his friends here last night.

Charging that the international court was worse than the league of nations as far as entangling United States in European affairs, Johnson said:

"I suggest to my conservative brethren that recent events indicate they must choose whether progressive things shall be done in a conservative way or in a radical way. You may have to take progressivism or radicalism will take you."

He concluded with this summary: "The world court is an utterly futile agency for peace—it cannot and will not prevent wars and it does not pretend either in its organization or in its operation to do so."

"It has jurisdiction over nothing," he continued. "Except what countries may choose to submit to it. The four great member nations, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, have specifically declined to submit to its compulsory jurisdiction."

"Its genesis is the league of nations. It is a part of the machinery of the league. Its opinions are based upon the prerogatives of the league. The law of the league is in reality the law of the court and behind the league, controlling and directing it, are the chancelleries of Europe, with their secret diplomacy, their selfishness and cupidity and their hideous schemes of exploitation and conquest."

ANTEATER MAKES A SWELL PET, CLAIMS

ATLANTA, Ga., July 26.—A Central American anteater makes a swell playmate, according to Arthur Wilmer of Atlanta, who is fast becoming acquainted with the idiosyncracies of his new pet.

"He has no fleas and can climb like a monkey and just about as interesting," Arthur explains, advocating that other boys adopt anteaters for "pets."

The anteater was brought from Central America about five months ago by the boy's father, T. J. Wilmer, and since has been adopted by the entire family. He roams about the house and yard at will and occasionally uses his long narrow snout to keep in practice of breaking up ants. However, he is particularly fond of the specimen in large and juicy, he can't be bothered.

Wilmer claims the anteater answers his whistle like a dog, will chase a ball or stick and return it to the feet of his master; clasp up a porch swing chain and do dozens of other things common to domestic animals.

The anteater has only one fault: a devotion to raw eggs and Wilmer has a henhouse.

WIFE BLAMES RADIO RAGE FOR BEATING REDWOOD CITY, July 26.—Credit this divorce action to the radio craze. Mrs. Eva O. Moore today charged her husband, Fred E. Moore, with extreme cruelty and asks the superior court to grant her an interlocutory decree of divorce. Mrs. Moore alleges that recently she started to play the family phonograph while her husband was trying to "tune in" his radio set. The phonograph music so enraged the radio fan that he beat his wife, according to the complaint. The Moores live in South San Francisco.

THE MERRY BURGLAR LONDON, July 26.—A burglar who found a suburban government office on his visiting list called a storage van, drove with it to the office, and ordered the crew to remove the safe. Burglars at Shrewsbury tore down a board fence, carried part of it across the street and used it as a ram to break the plate-glass window of a jewelry shop, which they rifled.

KEELER, AT 80, GOES TO WORK After fourteen years of enforced idleness because of ill health, J. H. Keeler, widely known Maryland citizen, has gained forty pounds at the age of eighty years and gone back to work every day. Mr. Keeler, who resides at 3706 Thirty-Second street, Mt. Ranier, Md., gives entire credit for his extraordinary rehabilitation to Tanlac.

"My stomach was in such terrible condition I could hardly digest a thing," says Mr. Keeler. "It would swell to nearly twice its normal size and I would have frightful pains through my stomach and back. I felt so weak, dizzy and miserable work was out of the question. In fact, my friends gave me up on three or four different occasions."

"Five months ago I began taking Tanlac and improved from the very first bottle. I now eat anything on the table, have gained forty pounds, and am back at work every day. Actually, I feel like a boy again. It would be ungrateful of me not to praise Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.—adv.

San Angelo Claims 14,145 Population

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 26.—A population for San Angelo of 14,145, a gain of 4,085 in three years, is indicated in the John F. Worley Directory company's 1933 directory for this city.

The population estimate is derived by multiplying the number of names listed by a decimal, representing the number of persons in the average family.

San Angelo's inhabitants in January, 1920, when the government census was taken, was 10,000, but this did not include those living outside the corporate limits. Suburbanites were included in the directory listing.

BRICKLAYERS SHOWN ONE 4000 YEARS OLD VERNON, Texas, July 26.—A brick, 4,000 years old was exhibited here recently to a crowd of bricklayers who were working on the Presbyterian church and became engaged in a discussion of how long a brick going into a modern structure would last.

The brick, in the form of a clay tablet is the property of Dr. E. L. Moore. It was one of a number of temple records dug up in Babylon on the sites of the ancient cities of Drebach and Jokna.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY

DALLAS, Texas, July 26.—A statewide industrial survey of manufacturing industry, including every type of industrial plant in operation in Texas has been undertaken by the industrial department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The co-operation of 250 local chambers of commerce has been requested in making the survey which will be completed within the next 60 to 90 days.

The survey will include the number of manufacturing plants in Texas; the number of employees; total value of products manufactured; total amount of payrolls and amount of capital invested.

3500 PHONES LINKED UP IN ONE MINUTE SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 26.—But one minute was required to switch 3,500 telephones to the new Woodlawn exchange, when that exchange was opened recently.

The cables were all prepared ahead of time and with a force of men ready to make the shift and a corps of 35 operators on duty in the new building, the change was made in what is claimed to be record time.

BEAUTY DUTY, NOT GIFT, CLAIMS EXPERT

SEATTLE, Wash., July 26.—Beauty is not a gift, but a duty, in the opinion of Mrs. Ida Cherooff, noted authority on feminine health and pulchritude.

"Every woman has beauty," said Madame Cherooff. "She owes it to the world to develop and accept to every single point of loveliness. Such courses as flabby skin, double chins, hollow cheeks, gray hair and superfluous flesh are so unnecessary but almost sinful."

"What's this funny thing?" they cried. The next place in Rainbow Land of the Little Peppers had jumped was where the Little Peppers lived, down into Nancy's open pocket, and when Mr. Sky Bow brought Nancy, hauled out her scissors, and Nick to this queer place, they almost stepped on six of them before they knew they were there. Before you could sneeze the Little Peppers began to crawl up Nancy's legs and Nick's legs and to tan all over them like ants, for they weren't any bigger than ants, really. "Oh, look!" cried one. "Look what I've found! What do you suppose it's for?" "It was Nick's pocket, my dears, that the curious little fellow was poking into." Instantly a hundred of them popped down in and pretty soon, out they came dragging Nick's knife. "What's this funny thing?" they cried. Nick took it carefully so as not to crush any of them and showed them how the blades opened. "What's it for?" they wanted to know. "To cut with," said Nick. At the same time a hundred more

LOVED BABE SO MUCH SHE HAD TO STEAL IT

WASHINGTON, July 26.-I'm sorry, but I love the baby so much I just couldn't help it. This Mrs. Marie Cleveland, 22 years old, of Camp Devens, tearfully explained why she fled here with a 2-year-old baby girl taken without consent from a Boston foundling home. "I want to go back to my husband," she said, "but he will understand and forgive. The baby will go back to the home where the real mother can love her as I love her," she told detectives who arrested her. Police say the young wife abandoned the baby from the Boston institution before she had taken legal measures of adoption.
